- Supported Lodgings – Young people have their own furnished room in a safe and supportive home, supported by the adult householder(s) or 'Hosts' – singles, couples, occasionally families. Householders provide the daily contact and support with independent living skills, and a tailored support package is provided from the provider's key worker. Particularly suitable for young people who are not yet ready to live in a more independent setting such as own flat/property, or not wanting/able to live in a group living environment.
- Core 24/7 Services – The young person has a flat/room within a larger (typically 6+ unit), building that typically has some communal areas. Staff on site 24-hours a day (typically with a concierge arrangement during the night)
- Visiting Support Services – a) Building-based support: Support will be provided by staff either based at or visiting the accommodation. An on-call support service is provided outside of core hours. b) Dispersed visiting support: The young person will be accommodated in a flat/house typically sharing with another young person. Visiting support can be accessed during specified core hours and an on-call support service is provided outside of core hours. The number of support hours is variable in accordance with need. The visiting support arrangements are suitable for (but not limited to) young people who are stepping-down from a more intensively supported accommodation service; or are ready for the more independent 'step down' accommodation as their first move from care and do not need to access higher support accommodation services first; or present specific needs and/or risks that prevent the Young Person from accessing core 24/7 services.
